Description of role:

As a software engineer at Alefinvest and Mazaltov, you'll jump right in and work on projects that are critical to the success of the company. Our engineers are self-motivated, versatile, compassionate and can work equally well in highly collaborative settings as well as those with little direction.

Responsibilities:

Design, build, deploy and maintain frontend and backend services that scale with a high growth company
Maintain best practices and strive to write high-quality code
Participate in regular code reviews and pair programming as necessary Collaborate with product, design, and leadership to develop winning products that help move the business forward Engage in regular standups, sprint planning, grooming / sizing, and retrospective meetings
Launch new features, big and small

Requirements:

5+ years experience full-stack development building real-world web applications in pre-production environments.
Recent experience building web applications using various languages and frameworks including Golang, Node.js, React, PHP Experience using API Gateway, CodePipeline, etc
Experience with writing unit and integration tests Experience using various database systems like MySQL, PostgreSQL, or other Exemplary communication skills; able to map problem-solution space and explain possible solutions to non-technical team members Passion for learning new technologies quickly
You are a collaborative engineer and a nice person who works well within a diverse team
